

John D. McCann, M.D

John McCann was born in Iowa and is a graduate of the University of Iowa, where he completed medical school and received a PhD in biophysics and physiology. His PhD thesis was critical to elucidating the molecular cause of Cystic Fibrosis.

Dr. McCann completed eye surgery training at the University of California San Francisco. He did advanced training in ophthalmic plastic surgery at the University of Utah, and then practiced on the full time UCLA faculty at the Jules Stein Eye Institute for 9 years. After receiving tenure at UCLA he moved to Utah where is currently practicing ophthalmic plastic and reconstructive surgery at the Center for Facial Appearances in Salt Lake City.

Dr. McCann has over 15 years of experience in ophthalmic plastic surgery and has performed over 10,000 procedures. He is a world renowned expert in cosmetic surgery of the face as well as the surgical treatment of disorders of the eyelid, orbit, and tear drain system.

Dr. McCann is Chairman of the Department of Ophthalmology at Intermountain Medical Center, Chairman of the Division of Ophthalmology at Salt Lake Regional Medical Center, Chairman of the education committee for the Utah Ophthalmology Society, and former executive editor for the American Journal of Ophthalmology. Named one of the “Best Doctors in America” by his peers and featured on national television in “Celebrity Beauty Secrets Revealed”. Dr. McCann is also the developer, founder and CEO of McCann Medical Matrix, electronic medical record software used around the country.

Dr. McCann is a world renowned author, educator, and speaker. Dr. McCann has participated in fellowship training programs for over 15 years and has contributed to the training many physicians in America and abroad. He remains active in publishing contributing over 100 journal articles, abstracts, and book chapters to the medical literature. He is and has been featured as a speaker at many continuing medical education meetings for facial plastic surgeons nationwide and abroad. In the past years he has organized a meeting in Park City, Utah attended by hundreds of plastic surgeons from across the nation and was the featured speaker at plastic surgery meetings in Israel and Columbia.

Dr. McCann is Board Certified and a member of the American Society of Ophthalmic Plastic and Reconstructive Surgeons, Fellow of the American Board of Ophthalmology.